Activities Explanation

Pato, Pato, Pavo- Not exactly Duck, Duck, Goose, but similar! Have the kids make a circle and make one child the "ducker". This student will walk around the circle tapping the other children on the head while saying, "pato". When he or she says, "pavo", the person he was tapping at that time gets up and chases the ducker around the circle. The ducker tries to make it back to the circle before getting tagged. If he/she does, the child sits down and the new student is the ducker. If the new student tags the ducker before he or she can sit down, the ducker must sit in the middle of the circle. Very fun! You can change it around and use other animals too—Vaca, Vaca, Caballo!

Stories- Check your local library for the following books: Perro Grande...Perro Pequeño (P.D. Eastman); ¿Dónde está Spot? (Eric Hill) They are great practice for the children's comprehension skills.

Listening Activity- Play the song "Name the Animals." Tell the children to listen closely! After the song is over have the children tell you the animals they heard in Spanish. There may be some new words! (The enclosed cd is for educational purposes only and cannot be reproduced or used for resale.)
