

Level III

Vocabulary List

helado- ice cream
regalo- present/gift
pastel- cake
las velas- candles
gracias- thank you
galletas- cookies
pizza- pizza
hamburguesa- hamburger
papas fritas- potato chips
agua- water

Keep practicing at home for five minutes each night for optimal retention. Practice writing the dates of friends birthdays in Spanish!
example: 12 de marzo

Cantamos- Let's Sing

Here is a new to sing at home with your children.

¡Bocadillo!

(to the tune of "¡Bistec!")

Me gusta, Me gusta, (I like, I like)

Me gusta el bocadillo. (I like the sandwich.)

Oh no no, no no el bocadillo (Oh, no no, no no the sandwich)

Las papas fritas, las galletas, (potato chips, cookies)

El leche y el agua. (milk and water)

La hamburguesa, manzana, banana y naranja (hamburger, apple, banana, and orange)

Notas Culturas / Class Activities

Today we discussed the birthday traditions in Latin American countries. Birthdays are usually celebrated with a mix of friends and family at the home of the person who is having the birthday. Birthday parties are somewhat of a "dress up" occasion. A custom at a birthday party is to break a piñata. The children are blindfolded one at a time and given a stick or bat to try and break open the piñata. The piñata is hanging from something and many times is swinging. When the piñata breaks, candy and small toys fall to the ground and all of the children rush in to get their treasures. There is a tradition in Mexico called la mordita (bite). Friends gather together and give the birthday person a cake. As the person goes to take a bite, they push his or her head into the cake. A big mordita!

Information

Please contact the Futura Language Professionals Coordinator, SandyO@FuturaAdventures.com with any questions about Spanish class.