- Cuerpo Gigante! -Bring in a very large roll of paper. Divide the class in two groups. Have one person (preferably one boy and one girl) from each group lay on the paper. Trace the child and then have the groups work independently to color and label the body parts. Make sure they specify colors. Have each group "introduce" their person to the other group using some of the intro vocabulary words. Example: Mi amigo se llama Rosa. Tiene dos ojos cafes, una boca rosa, etc.
- Persona Divertida! Assign each student a body part to draw. After five minutes, each student brings the body part drawing to the teacher. The teacher assembles the body parts on the chalkboard with tape. The final result—Una persona divertida! Have the children call out the body parts as you point to them.
- Super Silly Secret Monsters-Trifold paper (as if you were stuffing envelopes). On day one of the body part lesson, have students draw the head and shoulders of a silly monster on the top 1/3 of the paper. Make sure to use the Spanish words! Collect the papers and tape them so that there is no peeking. During day two of the body parts lesson, hand the students back their sheets and have them draw from the shoulders to the waist of the silly monster on the second $\frac{1}{2}$ of the paper. Again, tape them so that only the bottom 1/3 is showing. On day three of the body parts lesson, hand out the sheets and instruct (in Spanish!) the students to draw the legs and feet of their monster. On the final day, reveal the Super Silly Secret Monsters!
