Practice at Home

Now your children can use Spanish in full sentences! See if your students can match up the following sentences in English to the Spanish translation.

Hint: Use the vocabulary list from last week and this week to check the answers.

¿Dónde está el avión?
Quiero agua por favor.
Me llamo Juan.
¡Vámonos!

My name is Juan.
Let's go!
Where is the plane?
I want water please.

Notas Culturales

This week we learned about San José, Costa Rica. A nickname for Costa Ricans is "Ticos." Many people vacation to Costa Rica for their rainforests and beautiful beaches. Costa Rica also has exciting wildlife like monos (monkeys) and tucanes (toucans) that can easily be seen from the street. There are muchos pescados grandes también! (many large fish also) Therefore deep sea fishing is popular for tourists and locals. The international aeropuerto is called Juan Santamaria. The money in Costa Rica is called colones. Would you like to viajar a Costa Rica? (travel to Costa Rica)
