Juego de memoria

Print and cut out the either the black and white or the color page of images and the page with words. Laminate the cards to make them more durable. You will need one set of cards for every 2-3 players.

In groups of 2-3, players take turns turning over two cards at a time as they try to find an image/word match. The winner is the person who accumulates the most matches.

There is a chart included in both black and white that shows which image represents which subject pronoun. It is not needed to play the game but can be used to review before students start playing or can be provided to students who need more support in order to play the game.
