Today, students reviewed summer vocabulary in Spanish and were put to the test through fun games and mini obstacle courses. They practiced listening, movement, and teamwork skills while completing different challenges throughout the activity stations. Thank you for bringing great energy and enthusiasm to this exciting class!

Conversation Practice

¿Cómo estás? – How are you?

Notas Culturales

This week, students explored how games and challenges are part of school life in many Spanish-speaking countries. They learned that in places like Mexico, schools often hold “Jornadas Deportivas,” where students participate in obstacle courses and team games. In Argentina, children enjoy activities like sack races and tug-of-war, while in Cuba and Puerto Rico, movement and games are often combined with music and dance.

Students also learned the expression “¡Aguas!”, used in some Spanish-speaking regions to warn others to be careful during fast-paced activities.
